PSEG Gives Back to the Community at Capital One/JA Finance Park of New Jersey

May 28, 2014, Newark, NJ - During the role-playing event with the help of PSEG mentors, the students spent the day managing personal budgets and making critical decisions in such areas as selecting the right car and house for their family size and salary. “I’m proud of the students today. 100% of them ended their day with either a breakeven budget or savings. Today helped JA students gain insight to the life skills that are vital to the success of their personal economic empowerment,” said Dorsa, who is also Junior Achievement of NJ’s State Board Treasurer.
